

Sennebogen Continues Support as an ISA Canopy Partner

ATLANTA, Ga. – The International Society of Arboriculture (ISA) is pleased to announce that Sennebogen, one of the world's leading manufacturers, will continue to support ISA through its Canopy Partner's Program.

The ISA Canopy Partners program is a collaborative initiative that brings together industry leaders to support ISA mission to promote the professional practice of arboriculture, inform the public about the benefits of trees and prove a global network of arborists, urban foresters and people who care for trees.

"Our ISA Canopy Partners' investment in our work provides critical resources for ISA to promote the professional practice of arboriculture," said Caitlyn Pollihan, the CEO and Executive Director of ISA. "With their support, ISA can continue exploring ways to support our members, credential holders and future arborists as well as inform the public about the importance of healthy trees."

Over the past year, the ISA Canopy Partners have supported public education on the importance of proper tree care through our TreesAreGood® brand, transitioning Arboriculture & Urban Forestry—ISA's peer review journal—to an open access model, and the 2022 Virtual Event, which allowed ISA to bring education materials to more than 2000 people worldwide in six different languages.

Sennebogen manufactures the widest range of machines in the material handling and crane technology sectors. The company builds and engineers material handlers, electric material handlers, telehandlers, tree handlers, demolition machines, crawler cranes, duty cycle cranes and port cranes.

Through the Canopy Partners program, ISA is able to provide arborists with programming, services and research to better equip them to serve and educate the greater public and advance the profession as well as the tree care industry worldwide. Additionally, the Canopy Partners program helps to address critical environmental issues, impact decision and policy makers, spread valuable education and research while also staying on the cutting edge of industry trends, innovation and technology.
